From where will personal data be obtained?

If you are a user of the App, you may directly or indirectly provide us with information about yourself in connection with your download and use of the App. We may also collect information about you from publicly available official registers. We will also receive information about your transaction history and e-legitimation identifier from external sources such as your bank or third party apps (for example Tink).

If you contact us or visit our website you may directly or indirectly provide us with information about yourself.

What happens if you do not provide Again with any personal data?

You are not obliged to provide us with your personal data. However, some personal data is necessary in order for the App and the website to function as you might expect. Our possibility of providing the App and/or all its functions to you will therefore be affected if you do not provide us with certain personal data. If you wish to contact us, for example by email, we need to process your personal data such as your email address in order for us to reply to you, meaning that you cannot contact us without providing any personal data.

How will Again share your personal data?

Other users of the App

If you take part in a contest, Again might share the initials of your first and last name to other users of the App, should you reach the leaderboard

Our service providers

Your personal data is shared with our service providers that process personal data on our behalf (processors). Our service providers are our IT and system suppliers and other suppliers providing us with services.

Our clients

Anonymized information about your survey responses, age, gender, postal code, number of purchases done at companies, purchase amount range, purchase frequency, date since first purchase at a company may be shared with Again's clients.

When sharing is required by law

We may disclose your information if we are required to do so by law or other legal process.

Where do Again process personal data?

We only process your personal data within the EU/EEA.

For how long will Again keep your personal data?

We never process your personal data for longer than permitted according to applicable laws. We will only keep personal data for as long as necessary to serve the purposes as described above under “What information do we collect about you and what are our purposes and legal basis for the processing?”.

If you are a user of the App, Again will keep your personal data for the time necessary to provide the App to you and to fulfil the purposes described above. If you cease all use of the App and delete all complete or partial copies of the App, or if you are inactive for one (1) year, Again will delete your personal data, unless necessary to fulfil the purposes described above.

If you visit our website, Again will keep your personal data for the time necessary to fulfil the purposes as described above.

If you contact us, Again will keep your personal data as long as necessary to be able to communicate with you in the matter at hand.

In some cases, we may save your personal data for longer than described above in order to fulfil legal obligations or if it is necessary to establish, enforce, or defend legal claims.

How do Again protect your personal data?

Again will secure that appropriate safeguards (legal, technical, and organisational measures) are in place which provide adequate levels of protection of your personal data as required by applicable data protection laws. This applies both internally at Again and externally when we transfer personal data to our service providers.

Your data protection rights

You are always welcome to contact Again by emailing us on hello@again.app if you have questions about our processing of personal data or if you wish to invoke your rights described below.

- You have the right to request information about the personal data processed about you by Again and access to such personal data.
- You have the right to request that Again correct erroneous or incomplete information about yourself.
- You have the right to request erasure of your personal data under certain conditions. In some cases, we must save your personal data owing to legal requirements or if we need to retain certain data in order to establish, enforce or defend a legal claim.
- You have the right to request restriction of the processing of your personal data meaning that you request Again to limit the processing of your personal data under certain circumstances.
- You have the right to object to Again’s processing of your personal data based on our legitimate interest.

- You have the right to data portability (transfer of your personal data to another controller) if Again's processing of your personal data is based on consent or contractual obligation and is automated.

You are also entitled to lodge a complaint with the Swedish Authority for Privacy Protection by sending an email to imy@imy.se, or other competent supervisory authority exercising supervision of the processing of personal data, if you have any complaints relating to our processing of your personal data.
